ISOBEL CUP

The lady Isobel Gathorne-Hardy Cup, often shortened to Isobel Cup, is the championship trophy awarded annually to the premier hockey Federation playoff winner. It is named after lady Isobel Gathorne-Hardy, one of the first known women to play the game and the daughter of Lord Stanley (the namesake of the Stanley Cup and former governor general of Canada).

The first Cup was awarded in 2016 at the end of the inaugural season of the NWHL, the first professional women's hockey league in the United States. The league is now known as the Premier Hockey Federation (PHF) and includes teams from both the United States and Canada to compete for the trophy.
